Notes from the Manse

“Rejoice always, pray without ceasing, give thanks in all circumstances; for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus for you.”—1 Thessalonians 5:16-18

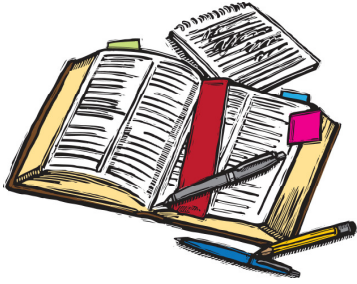

There are problems out there. We all know that. It's a broken world and there's a world of problems. You can't pick up a paper or turn on the television without hearing about just another killing, another bombing, another case of abuse, another people stealing peace from those without power, without a voice. But you don't have to look that far, do you? There's hurt in our families, anger and illness and so much worry. Kids go to school afraid of being bullied. Not even churches or the denominations to which they belong are spared of problems. And sometimes it can all seem overwhelming. Where to begin? And how can one person's efforts make any real difference? Well, Paul, in the passage above, gives a good place to start—pray, pray without ceasing. Turn to God, put our problems in God's hands, give up the exhausting burden of thinking it's all up to us alone. Pray for healing, our own and those who have hurt us. And when we listen for the word of God, when we allow ourselves to be led, not by our own desires or opinions but rather by the will of God, why, then our efforts, no matter how small, can make a difference. They are the bricks that can build the Kingdom.

But that isn't all that Paul had to say. He urged us to give thanks in all circumstances, not just when things are going as we would like, but also when times are tough, for, you know, God is at work even then. And over the last few weeks I have been reminded by how much we have to be thankful for here at Leacock. Session members take the time, even at the end of a long day, thoughtfully to consider important matters for the church. Session committees work with dedication to bring life to Leacock's programs. Trustees are vigilant in caring for the physical plant of the church and the finances that support it. Deacons serve and care and love.

And then there was the parade for Paradise's tri-centennial. Take the time to look at the pictures in the Narthex—it did indeed take a congregation to build a float. So many people planned and built and towed to make the short trip to Paradise Park possible. And I heard more than one person say that it was the best float in the parade that day. Or what about our organ project? Even in such a difficult economy, Leacock raised over $60,000. Now, the organ is repaired. And how glorious it sounds! Then, this last weekend we raised money for the organ at the Balloon Fest, with so many folks contributing baked goods or setting up the booth or staffing it. And always there is so much work done behind the scenes, setting up tables, taking them down, creating special bulletins, or putting together newsletters. So, oh, yes, let us give thanks.

But there's still more. We celebrated the repair of the organ with a wonderful concert and an extravagant reception afterwards. And that was right to do. For we should rejoice here at Leacock. We should celebrate all that is good and wonderful here in our midst, all the people who serve with love. Yes, there are problems. But let us listen to Paul. Let us rejoice, let us pray, let us give thanks, for that is what God in Christ wants.

OCTOBER 7
WORLD COMMUNION
SUNDAY
ONE SERVICE
930AM

Gather with your brothers and sisters here at Leacock to celebrate the Sacrament of Holy Communion even as our brothers and sisters around the world eat the bread of life and lift the cup of salvation proclaiming Christ’s presence among us until He comes again to receive us unto Himself.

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

Please remember that we always need volunteers to help serve dinner at The Factory Youth Center once a month. The venue has moved to the old Paradise school, so now, while serving food, you can reminisce about your old school days (if you’re a long-time Paradise resident) or see where friends and/or relatives spent their school days (if you’re “from away”).

Please call Karen Homsher (687-6469) for details if you’re interested in being a volunteer.

Emily Birch, Chair
Community Outreach

CONTACTING YOUR PASTOR

When I first came to this blessed congregation, I spoke of a sequence of ways to reach me when the need arose. Certainly, the office is open Tuesday through Friday in the morning.

But there may well come other times when you need to contact me. So, what I said then still holds.

First, try to call the church; we have started a policy of checking messages remotely each day after hours. If that doesn’t work or if the matter is urgent, call my cell phone, I do check it regularly. And if all else fails and it is an emergency, call our home, Emily should know how to reach me. Life is uncertain and things do come up. I want you to know that I am there for you. (See article in hardcopy of newsletter for telephone numbers)

HARVEST HAPPENING

Tuesday, October 30
Camp Donegal - 9AM TO 4PM

Camp Donegal isn’t just for kids...this day is for the adults! Enjoy a day of fellowship, Bible Study, worship, great food, beautiful surroundings, fun and innovative crafts. The theme for the day is Harvesting God’s Gifts.

Total cost for the day is $15 per person. Call 682-3722 or go to www.campdonegal.org for more information.

CHRISTMAS BAZAAR BASKETS

It's that time again - please start thinking of ideas to fill baskets to sell at the Christmas Bazaar on Saturday, December 1.

You can fill a basket with goodies with a theme of your own or donate items for us to create a filled basket for you!

Place your filled baskets in Fellowship Hall with bazaar items by Saturday, November 18.

Watch for more details - any questions and ideas please contact Karen Shue (687-7240) or Lois Snader (687-5698).

SEPTEMBER SESSION SNIPPETS

With the General Assembly's adoption of the New Form of Government and the concurrence of Donegal Presbytery, Session committees have been charged with writing a Manual of Operations detailing in depth their working responsibilities and procedures followed for all facets of congregational life. Each committee has been assigned a specific portion of this task with preliminary reports given at the September stated meeting. We have quickly discovered the magnitude of the job and will be continuing our investigating of procedures and writing with the aim of finishing by the end of the first quarter of 2013. The manual will then be shared with the congregation.

Other business included a preliminary discussion of each committee's proposed 2013 budget and a review of the job description for Church Treasurer.

Actions taken:

- ♦ Changing Rev. Birch's vacation Sundays to October 21 and 28
- ♦ Approving the following pulpit supplies: October 21 - Jeffery Nagorny; October 28 - Rev. Alicia Conklin-Wood
- ♦ Approving the purchase of a new laptop computer
- ♦ Scheduling Lee Barrett from Lancaster Theological Seminary to speak on the religious views of the two Presidential candidates Friday, November 2
- ♦ Approving March 6 and 7, 2013, for providing babysitting at Leacock for parent-teacher conferences at Paradise Elementary School

STEWARDSHIP REPORT—FINANCIAL UPDATE

	Offering, August		Expenses, August
	2012	2011	2012	2011
Monthly Total	$12,870.00	$11,597.00	$14,724.00	$20,502.00

Budget Tracking through August

	2012	2011
Total Annual Budget	$247,355.00	$250,125.00
Year to Date Expenses	$133,164.00	$146,584.00
% of Budget Spent	53.8%	59%

We ended August with our total year to date offering $5,039 behind year to date expenses for 2012, despite control of spending. 53.8% of the budget has been spent through the end of August versus 59% this time last year. Although a five thousand dollar deficit is not ideal, we actually gave more and spent far less in August of this year compared to August 2011. And let us not forget the other blessings and gifts given by our congregation and friends of Leacock, such as having a float in the Paradise anniversary parade to promote our church in the community. Don't forget the work put into the baked goods wheel of fortune manned at the Gap Balloon Festival, and of course, the spectacular organ dedication concert and reception. All these activities are vital to our standing in the community, and the persons who work tirelessly to make them happen understand well their importance.

The total given in August to special funds and projects was $11,486.60. The breakdown of this is $10,861.60 for the Organ Fund and $625 for Trustee projects.

Thank you to all who found it in their hearts to give to the special funds and programs. The Stewardship Committee thanks everyone for all donations small and large, not only of money but of time and talent as well.

MISSION COMMITTEE

October brings a few things to Leacock Church besides possibly the first frost.

The first Sunday, October 7, is World Wide Communion and a special offering will be taken (envelopes will be available in the pews).

The Mission Committee also thanks the congregation for the continued support of the Community Meal Project and gives thanks for those blessings.

CROP HUNGER WALK

The 31st annual Paradise Area CROP Hunger Walk will be held on Sunday, October 21, 2012. Registration begins at Leacock Presbyterian Church at 1:00pm with the walk starting at 1:30pm.

Sign up sheets will be in the Narthex for help in

- ☺ setting up the walk
- ☺ registering participants
- ☺ manning refreshment spots (water and apples provided by the Mission Committee)
- ☺ and checking on walkers and riders

The CROP Hunger Walk will be held across America and is sponsored by Church World Services. It is promoted by the local churches in our area. The goal of the CROP Hunger Walk is to stamp out hunger throughout the world, in our nation, and here in the Paradise area.

Twenty-five percent of the monies raised will go to the Paradise food bank which is now located at the Factory Youth Ministries in Paradise.

Walkers and bike riders are invited to do the 3-mile or the 5-mile routes through our beautiful farm country. Gather your family, friends, co-workers, neighbors, church groups, and join us in raising money for Hunger.

A Walking Cane will go to the group that has the most participants - so Leacock members, help us maintain the Cane!!

A NOTE FROM THE TRUSTEES

A huge thank you to everyone who donated to the Flooring Project. We are now confirming price and planning installation of the floor with a few local vendors. If the quotes are in line with the initial figures, it appears that we have the funds to move forward and complete this work before the end of 2012.

Please take time to look over the Workday List located in the Narthex as it is quite overwhelming. Mark your calendar as Workday is currently scheduled for 8am, Saturday, October 20th. Any help that you could lend would be greatly appreciated as the attendance during the spring event was not very strong and many tasks went untouched.

Together we can accomplish a lot! Feel free to add anything to the list that you think needs to be addressed.

Thank you from the Trustee group

COMMUNITY

COMMUNITY OUTREACH

Next Community
Outreach Meeting:
Thursday October 4 at 7:30pm
All are welcome to join us.

The Community Outreach Committee made a number of difficult decisions at our last meeting.

First of all, due to scheduling conflicts, we had to forego offering babysitting to families during the fall parent-teacher conferences, but don't worry. We will definitely be offering it in the spring (hint, hint: this means we need volunteers to baby sit next March).

Because we are hoping to focus our energy on new initiatives (like baby sitting and caring families), we've had to make the decision to cut back on some of our other activities. We will no longer be offering movers and shakers or holding board game nights. If anyone would like to volunteer to keep those activities going, we would be glad to hear from you, so please let us know.

Every fall, the leaves on the trees give us a magnificent color show, and every fall at Leacock, Lee Barrett comes from Lancaster Theological Seminary to give us a magnificent lecture.

Join us Friday, November. 2 for his talk Christian Faith and the 2012 U.S. Presidential Election.

You may have noticed that the car- ing family map has disappeared. Yes, that means we're busy map- ping out our families. Who's in your family? You'll have to come to the potluck on the first Sunday in Advent to get the answer to that question. We promise a great time: games, food, and carol singing.

WOMEN'S BIBLE STUDY

Are you a woman interested in Bi- ble study but not able to make the morning sessions?

We're adding an evening session just for you. We'll be using the same Horizons study that the other two sessions use, and we'll be meeting the third Tuesday of every month at 7:30pm.

Please come join us.

LECTURE
LEE BARRETT FROM LANCASTER THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY
FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 2

Light supper: 6:30 p.m.
Lecture: 7:00 p.m.

On Friday, November 2, we will welcome Dr. Lee Barrett, the Mary B. and Henry P. Stager Professor of Theology at Lancaster Theo- logical Seminary. This will be the fourth time we've welcomed Dr. Barrett to Leacock, and he will be speaking on the following timely topic:

Christian Faith and the 2012 U.S. Presidential Election

We Christians are commanded to actively care for the well-being of all our neighbors, and therefore to support governmental policies that promote the well-being of our neighbors. The problem is that Christians disagree sharply about what counts as the well-being of our neighbors, and also about what political and economic policies would best help our neighbors.

In fact, the tensions between "red state" Christians and "blue state" Christians are becoming bitter and deep.

We shall examine the ways in which both presidential candidates try to justify the appropriateness of their platforms in terms of the mandate to love our neighbors. Our perspective will be non- partisan, and we will strive to be fair to all perspectives.

If you've never heard Dr. Barrett lecture, you're in for a real treat. If you have heard him speak, you know you'll want to be there. We expect a lively, informative, and interesting conversation, so please join us.

ADVENT POT LUCK

CHRISTMAS BAZAAR

Jingle Bells, Jingle Bells, Jingle All the Way.....That time of year is fast approaching once again.....Our annual Christmas Bazaar at Leacock will be held on Saturday, December 1.

Mark your calendar, we will be looking for volunteers to help before December and on the actual day of the bazaar. There are so many ways for you to lend a helping hand.

We will be having a Candy Workshop (this year you will be able to order and pay for the amounts you need ahead of time or simply come to the bazaar and buy what you need). We will need tons of bakers to bake cookies and breads to fill tins and plates available for purchase the day of the bazaar. Would someone like to make peanut brittle or fudge? How about birdseed cookies...they were a hit last year!

If you are canning, please think of us....last year our selection was sparse....we could use jams, jellies, fruits, apple butter, salsa, chow chow, applesauce, and any other items you think might sell. We hope you will take time to fill a basket with a theme of your choice again this year. We will only be accepting gently used Christmas ornaments, Christmas books, and Christmas items/decorations for in our "Used Area" please notice, this year only Christmas items will be sold....all other items will be taken to Goodwill before the bazaar. We hope to have another Greens Night to make centerpieces, arrangements and wreaths. If you have any greens to share, let us know ahead of time.

Our famous Holiday Cafe will be open for business serving breakfast and lunch items. Then comes the set-up crew, cashiers, baggers, and tear-down crew all necessary helpers that are needed to make this event a huge success. So far all the "crafts" are priced and ready for display.....this is a year-long process! So watch the next newsletter for exact dates and times, mark your calendar, and come out to lend a hand or two.

If you have any questions or suggestions, please call Loretta McClarigan 687-9010.

Lancaster General Hospital has scheduled community blood drives throughout the year at the following locations. Won't you consider giving blood - every pint is very important!

Matters of Faith—Questions for a Pastor

Nine months ago, when I started this series, I was a bit apprehensive. I had no idea how it would be received, and I knew that some of the questions were going to require more than a little prayer and thought and study. To my surprise, it appears that folks are following the series and enjoying it. And I've actually come to look forward to tackling each new question. So, thanks to the mysterious person who slipped the list into my folder almost a year ago—and who's made it possible to continue the series by offering another set of questions.

This month's question is the last of the original set—"How could Jesus be raised by sinful parents? (Only he was without sin.) Would he not have misbehaved as a child? Did he get sick, like other humans could?" It's still September, but somehow December doesn't feel all that far away (maybe because it's pretty chilly tonight). And this question has a bit of a Christmas feel. The short answer is that we don't know. Apart from the stories of his birth in Matthew and Luke, hardly anything is written about Jesus' youth—in fact, Mark and John don't even speak of his birth.

But we do have one, rather suggestive, story in Luke. It appears that when Jesus was 12, his parents took him to Jerusalem on their annual trip for Passover. We can imagine the swirl of people, as Jews gathered from all over the world to celebrate this holiday of deliverance. As Luke tells it, the festival ended and, probably a bit weary, Joseph and Mary join the crowd leaving Jerusalem for their trip home to Nazareth. A day into their journey, they notice the boy was missing. Nowadays, child welfare would probably be contacted—I mean, how could it have taken a day to notice that their son wasn't around? Sure, he might've been with friends or relatives as the text suggests, but a day? Anyway, they hurry back to Jerusalem and eventually find him in the temple, attentively listening to what are called "the teachers" and asking them questions. And it seemed that this boy already had a pretty deep understanding, pretty impressive wisdom.

In our faith, we claim that Jesus was fully divine, and his ability to hold his own with some of the scholars of Judaism seems to point to that side of him. But we also claim that Jesus was fully human. And there are more than a few parents who have had the wonderful experience of discovering at the mall, if not the temple, that their child has wandered off, intent on some project they never bothered to share with anyone. So, you might say that here he misbehaved a bit. It sure caused his folks worry, even though he pointed out that he had to be in his father's house. His parents were mortal, and being so were sinful, not always quite doing what they should, being confused, even if they tried their hardest. And yes, they do not always "get" who their son is—why, in Mark 3, they try to get him under control when people start to think he's crazy. But you know, he was fully human. And I wouldn't be surprised if as a baby he had the colic; if he broke an ox-cart wheel or two tossing a ball around with his friends; if there weren't long, anxious nights that Mary sat by his bedside, trying to cool his hot forehead when he was sick. In a strange way, all that would be an opportunity for love. And that, in the beginning and in the end, is what our Lord was all about.

LEACOCK BOOK DISCUSSION

You still have plenty of time to read the next book for the book discussion group, because we've not yet set a date (waiting to do so until after we view the movie Blue Like Jazz at our potluck dinner this Sunday).

The book is The Absolutely True Diary of a Part-Time Indian by Sherman Alexie, and we will be discussing it sometime in November.
