Notes From the Manse

"Other seeds fell on good soil and brought forth grain..." Matthew 13:8

One of the more common images in Scripture is that of planting and harvest. After the flood, a sorrowful God, acknowledging that it is human to be broken, promises never again to curse the ground or kill all creatures because of us and affirms that as long as the earth endures there will be seed time and harvest. In Ecclesiastes, there is an acknowledgment that for everything there is a season, including a time to plant and a time to harvest. Jesus refers to mustard seeds and grains of wheat. All of this makes sense, for people then knew the rhythms of the fields and the crops upon which their lives depended. And even though many today live lives far removed from those rhythms, perhaps too far, we still feel the resonance of these images.

Long ago, people would sit around fires and reflect on their year, on what seeds they had planted and which had borne fruit. It is still a good practice. For now it is Fall. All around us in Lancaster County are signs of harvest. Let us pause, take some time, look back over our year. It might first be good to ask where have we planted our seeds. Remember, in Jesus' parable, some seeds fell on the path and took no root. What have been the ideas, the plans, that came and went quickly, leaving little trace? Then there are the seeds that landed on rocky soil—what got us all excited at first, but was soon dropped, perhaps because trouble came and distracted us? As for the seeds that were cast among thorns, when have the worries and desires of daily routine killed any chance at new beginnings? Finally, what have we planted in good soil? What seeds have taken root and are clearly growing in the soil that is our hearts.

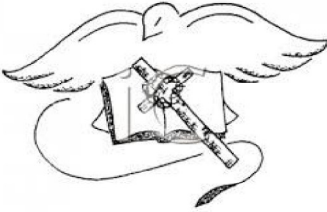

Seeds are cast by fellowships. This year Leacock has planted several seeds in good soil. We see signs of new Stewardship ideas, such as on-line giving and a growing partnership between the Stewardship Committee and the Trustees. There have been quarterly retreats by the Session, and committee meetings held when they are needed, not just to have them. The Deacons are exploring new ways of caring, such as preparing meals in advance for the bereaved or the healing. There is now a form for end-of-life service planning—see the Worship Committee article. These are only a few of the seeds this congregation has planted.

Seeds are also planted by individuals. I, for example, have been exploring variations in worship, such as having the Christ Hymn from Philippians serve as the Affirmation of Faith. I am working on changing old, bad habits, such as agonizing over important correspondence, rather than just writing it. And I am trying to incorporate in my life more of the practices I learned in my Spiritual Direction training, such as regular times for stillness, for being in God's creation, for sharing with Emily each day what it is we are grateful for in each other and for what we are sorry in ourselves.

What have been the seeds you have planted in good soil? What is growing in your heart, perhaps still fragile, still needing care, but growing all the same? The seeds we plant are important, you know. For if they are good seeds sown in good soil, they will grow in the light of God. We will be born anew, again and again, in the words of Peter in his first letter, not of perishable but of imperishable seed. That is a blessed harvest.

Rev. Robert W. Birch

TRUSTEES NOTES

The Trustees thank everyone that showed up for Workday in October. There are still some minor jobs to be done, so if you are inclined, contact David Berkheimer for the list.

The Trustees will be looking closely at the Bell Tower for repairs and painting. Rotten wood was discovered in the tower and the bell holder itself needs some TLC.

Thanks to all of you for your donations to get the Manse and garage painted. That job is done and it looks great! Siliconing is next for the Manse.

The east tower at the narthex is painted and the dark areas from the roof covered up. This will hopefully keep the dark areas from reoccurring. Thanks to everyone for supporting your Church!

Thanksgiving Eve Service

Everyone is invited to attend the 7:30 evening service at Old Leacock as we gather together to give thanks.

Mission Committee

Please remember that in the months of November and December the community meal changes from the last Thursday of the month to the second Thursday of those months. This month's meal will be held on Thursday, November 9th from 5:30 to 6:30 in the handicapped accessible Smith Fellowship Hall. This will be our traditional Thanksgiving meal. Sign up sheets for donated food and helpers needed will be in the narthex on Sunday, October 29th and November 5th. Please sign up where you feel you would be most helpful. We sincerely appreciate all of your willingness to help in this important mission.

Please also keep in mind the Christmas Joy Offering which will be coming up in December. Watch the December newsletter for more details.

I was reminded on Sunday that God initiated hospitality and stewardship, providing us places of abundance and rest, guiding our steps, and filling our cups to overflowing. Stewardship, the art of caring, and hospitality go hand in hand. We live as good stewards in response to God's hospitality.

Stewardship - Join our Conversations - This beautiful congregation is the reason we have them. The following actions are the result of recent conversations at stewardship meetings, session meetings and a joint trustee-elder stewardship retreat in August:

- An application is in the mail to the Presbyterian Foundation, the financial institution of the Presbyterian Church where our endowment funds are invested, to have online giving available on our church website. It will afford people an additional way to make donations to the General Fund of Leacock. More information to follow soon.
- Care about being both ecologically minded and saving the church money? This question was raised at our October stewardship meeting. We are now having an open conversation and invite your response. Let me know if you would like to receive your copy of the monthly newsletter online. If you want to stick to a mailed paper copy no action is required. Please email your response: mariebrackbill@gmail.com. Remember, this is just a conversation, don't panic, nothing has changed, we encourage your input.
- Communication in the world of humans has always been iffy - all that "whisper down the lane stuff" that happens..... In an effort to improve our communications at Leacock, the trustees and the stewardship committee are trying something new, for at least one month. In November we will meet together, go over the monthly financial reports and share our concerns, questions, informations and joys.

Worship Committee Notes

We want to begin this month by expressing our deep appreciation for Lois Snader and her long, faithful, and creative service on the Decorating Committee. Her work and that of others has enhanced our worship for many years. She will be completing her term with the Christmas season. We would be delighted to learn of anyone who would like an outlet for their creativity in the seasonal life of the church. If you are interested or want to know more, see Karen Homsher or Skip Brackbill.

We will begin our Advent season on December 3 with our Advent Breakfast and Worship Celebration. Watch for more details of time and location. A full schedule of Advent and Christmas services will appear in the December newsletter.

Last month we spoke about the opportunity to plan for one's funeral or memorial service should you desire to do so. The information form in which to convey your requests to the Leacock pastor and/or family members is included in this newsletter. Rev. Birch will address this on November 5, All Saints Day, when there will also be extra forms available at the back of the sanctuary. You may file this form with the office (where you can be provided with copies for you and for your family), file it at home, or give one to a family member. These can be changed or rescinded at any time in our church office.

Communion will be celebrated on November 26, Christ the King Sunday, and will be served by intinction. The elements will be brought to anyone who wishes to remain at their seat, and an alternate station will be provided for anyone requiring gluten free bread or individual elements.

Leacock Book and Movie Group

On October 13, the Leacock book and movie group gathered to watch the movie The Monuments Men, which was an interesting film about the importance of preserving our past – and especially our art – during war time. We also had an excellent potluck feast, probably the highlight of the evening, with everything from split pea soup to macaroni and cheese to potato salad. We were joined by Jim Farr, who was home from his missionary work for a visit. We will gather again on Friday November 10 at 5:30 for another potluck meal and to discuss the book Wonder by R.J. Palacio, a wonderful story about outcasts and standing up for ourselves. Our younger church family members are welcome to join us, as this is a kids' book, good for all generations. We hope you will join us and bring a covered dish, whether you have read the book or not.

Leacock Youth Group

The youth group also recently enjoyed a movie, thanks to Sara Lichty, who brought us Disney's Manoa to enjoy, a good one for a laugh or two, as well as a few life lessons. We also encouraged members of the youth group to walk in the CROP Walk, and our one taker was Sarah Keenan, who came with dear Sophie, the dog who can jump hurdles. Our meetings in Nov. will be Sunday Nov. 5 and Sunday Nov. 19 from 7-8:30 p.m. All youth in grades 7-12 are welcome to join us for spiritual growth through discussions and fun games.

Emily Birch and Charlene Boas, Youth Group Leaders

Gratitude Corner

(Those Who Go Above and Beyond to Care for Their Minister and His Wife)

As most of you probably know, one of the most frustrating curve balls life can throw us is a sudden plumbing problem. We've had a few in the past couple of months. First, our kitchen faucet exploded with leaks. Then, our bathtub/shower drain stopped working. It wouldn't plug, and it wouldn't drain. Bob did what he usually does for the latter problem, taking it apart and cleaning it, but that didn't work this time (and, of course, as life would have it, this happened just as we were expecting a house guest).

Enter Chuck Ankney, who always arrives cheerfully and quickly to fix such problems. He took one look at the kitchen faucet, proclaimed it, basically, to be a dinosaur, and was on his way to buy us a new one and install it in record time. He did the same with the tub drain, after we'd already resigned ourselves to using the downstairs shower while our visitor was here. He came and fixed it before any of us needed it, so no schlepping downstairs to shower after all. So, thank you, thank you, Chuck, for identifying our problems and fixing them which such good speed and cheer.

Emily Birch

Christmas Caring Tree

Our Christmas Caring Tree will be in the Narthex from Sunday, November 19- Sunday, December 10. There will be gift tags for children from the Paradise Youth Factory and Women from Bridge of Hope. The tags will either be for children's wish gifts- clothes or toys, or gift cards from local stores for the Bridge of Hope. The tags will give information needed to buy the gifts.

Directions for recording your tag selection will be explained when you select a tag. It is important for us to keep accurate information so the child receiving the gift is the child who requested it. Please follow the directions or ask a CCL member to help you. Hopefully everyone will get into the Christmas spirit and help make the holiday special for someone. Thanks you from CCL!

Family Advent Sunday Celebration

On Sunday, December 3, 2017 Leacock Presbyterian Church will celebrate Advent with an exciting morning celebration. Our morning will begin at 9:00 a.m. with a Covered Dish Breakfast served in the Narthex. The Sunday school rooms will be set up like a small restaurant with tables and chairs to eat and share each other's company. Following breakfast, we will move to the sanctuary for Christmas carols and a modified worship service. This special Advent service will be celebrated at our regular time so all can enjoy. Please come and worship!

Christmas Bazaar - Saturday, December 2

Donations are now being accepted of your handmade crafts, jewelry, clothing items, home décor, ornaments, framed items, etc. We will need homemade cookies, pies, breads, candy, fudge and bagged treats as that is one of Leacock's best selling points. Jams and jellies are always great sellers too! Once again, we will be plating the cookies on pretty plates or tins so you only need to send in your goodies, and we will do the rest. If you have any questions, please contact Loretta McClarigan 717-808-7689 or Lois Snader 717-989-0628.

MY WISHES

for My
Funeral or Memorial Service

Name

We are a resurrection people. In our faith, we believe that life, true life, does not begin, nor does it end in our time upon this earth. Yet, that time does come to an end. And when death comes, it can be very hard for those left behind, those whose hearts ache in missing us. Therefore, we invite you to consider what kind of funeral or memorial service you might like. There is, of course, no requirement that you fill this form out. But if you do, it might help your loved ones in those hard days following such a loss. Please know that you can change what you write here at any time—just let the office know, or send a note to the pastor. We hope this can be an instrument of grace.

The Service

1. I would like to have the service in:

_____ the Paradise sanctuary

_____ the Old Leacock sanctuary (available May through September)

_____ the funeral home

_____ no preference

2. These favorite hymns may be used in some way at the service.

_____
_____

3. Special music I would like played and, if possible, by whom.

_____
_____

4. The following scripture passages have been meaningful to me and may be included in the service.

_____
_____
_____

5. I have this additional information/request that may be considered in the preparation of the service. (The back of this sheet or another sheet may be used if needed.)

Additional Considerations

1. If the family wishes, the Deacons will serve a luncheon following the service. There is a modest fee calculated on a per person basis, and help is available in circumstances of financial need.

2. Leacock has a Memorial Fund and various endowment funds should the members of the family desire to designate memorial or other gifts to the church. Memorial gifts may also be designated for church missions and other general fund expenses.

3. Leacock has a funeral pall—white with a gold cross—that is available as a covering for the casket.
